Without your consent, it's hard to move forward. However, your situation is complex and requires careful consideration. Did you select the best fertility options for you and your partner? Did you talk to them about your concerns? They may have been in a tough position as well. Your decision might affect their future as well. It's important to discuss these things openly and honestly. Is there any legal advice or help you can seek?
Children have a surplus of guns, violence, media and lack of parenting.

All share traits of severely abused, emotionally abused, shamed and humiliated.

Jordan killed not for power but an attempt to take control.

Just step in my opinion - anger management today managed care leads to feeling no one cares.

House Bill 173 - The Right to Know law or the Jordan law - must tell foster parents of previous record.

House Bill 332 - training for foster parents.

Fundamental problem - no one system designed to help people like J. Jordan.

Competition among the different services - a problem.

Ellen Jones plan - parents get $13 a day for foster care.
